Situation
Heywood is a popular village situated on the northern outskirts of Westbury, in west Wiltshire. The village enjoys an attractive semi-rural setting whilst benefiting from close proximity to the amenities and facilities of the nearby market town.

Westbury provides a good range of shopping, educational, leisure and recreational facilities, including supermarkets, independent shops, cafés, public houses and schools. The larger centres of Trowbridge, Warminster and Frome are also within easy travelling distance, whilst the historic city of Bath is accessible by road.

The area benefits from good road communications, with the A350 providing access towards Trowbridge and the wider regional road network. Westbury railway station offers regular services to Bath, Bristol, Salisbury and London Paddington, making the area convenient for commuters.

Heywood combines a convenient village location with access to the surrounding Wiltshire countryside and the extensive amenities of Westbury and the wider region.
