A great example of modern developments done right. A bright and roomy modern house with excellent dimensions and fine ergonomics, situated in a charming development with a great community.

Over 1,500 sq feet of smart modern house, tucked away in a quiet culdesac. Two generous receptions, huge top floor bedroom suite, three further bedrooms, ample parking plus a garage. Deddington is a fine and historic market town with great amenities incl. school, shops, pubs, with easy access.

Deddington is a vibrant, active market town dating back over 1,000 years. A traditional market town centre (increasingly rare to find) is historic and charming, with many shops and several pubs. The wider town offers a post office, Health & Community Centres, library, hotels and restaurants, a recreation ground, plus a delightful church. The C of E primary school is particularly well regarded, and Deddington is within catchment for the Warriner secondary school. Oxford and Banbury are easily accessible, and many people commute via the M40 and A43, plus mainline stations providing fast access to London.

In a town this desirable, the search for housing that is both pleasing and affordable can be a challenge. Flux Drive offers a wonderful solution. A rather charming mix of different designs, all are arranged in a low density fashion which gives the development a very relaxed feeling. This was the initial draw for our clients when purchasing; in addition they've found a really lovely, friendly community, testament to the relaxed and warm feeling the development promotes.

The house and just two neighbours share a block paved entrance, set well away from any passing traffic. Opposite, a pretty and thoughtfully landscaped area filled with mature shrubs and plants flank the edge of a small play area. Next to the front door is an arch over the dedicated parking, with a garage behind it, of which more later.

Opening the door, you are instantly impressed with a real feeling of positivity brought about through great natural light and the feeling of airiness. The hallway widens as it opens ahead of you, increasing that feeling of space still further. The stairs rise away on the right, with a large cupboard beneath it, and an immaculately presented cloakroom off to one side.

Opposite, the kitchen is an impressive example of a space that's beautifully well planned. Smooth white units beneath sturdy work tops run around all four sides, with high-quality cabinetry that houses modern cooker and hob, dishwasher, fridge/freezer. There's ample preparation space for the most enthusiastic cooks.

To the rear of the hall, the large reception could be described as a mix of dining room and seating area as it is a very impressive size, hence easily provides for both disciplines. And with the rear wall almost fully glazed, including French windows, dining on the terrace is a frequent occurrence!

Heading upstairs, the three storey layout starts to make enormous sense, offering accommodation that's unusually roomy and flexible. Above the aforementioned arch, the living room is a delight. Windows front and rear give it natural light in abundance. That fact has allowed the vendors to decorate the room in a wonderfully warm hue that exudes the feeling of a relaxed living space that is stylish, and very inviting. The largest of suites is easily accommodated, alongside bookshelves, chests and such like without the room feeling cramped.

Sitting on the opposite of the landing, the living room never disturbs anyone sleeping in the bedrooms. At the rear, the most compact of them is a very useful study or child's room, looking over the gardens behind. Its neighbour is a fine double room, and double aspect hence lovely and bright, also sharing that same outlook to rear. Past a wide airing cupboard, the third bedroom on this floor is another good double, this time looking out over the quiet development to the front. Serving all, a very smart bathroom is equipped with a pristine white suite that includes a bath with shower above it and a screen.

A rather marvellous internal window on the top landing floods the stairs with natural light. Occupying the whole floor, the main bedroom is bright and characterful, with the gentle slope of the eaves to either side giving it a pleasing shape and aura. The floor area is considerable, and as there are wardrobes fitted across one wall the room offers so much space there's room for a sofa or several easy chairs without clutter. And the ensuite offers a shower suite and tiling in the same style as the bathroom downstairs.

Heading outside, several tandem spaces beneath the arch combine with the garage behind to offer more than enough parking day to day. In addition, the block paving at the front allows for more vehicles to park without issue. Next to the garage (with power fitted, and a useful open loft above that could probably be boarded) a gate opens into the rear garden.

A terrace runs the full width behind the house, with a small picket fence separating that from the lawn beyond (dog proofing - removable!), which runs up to an area at the rear with decorative shale and stepping stones. Two further terraces offer wonderful spots for a glass or a quiet book in the sunshine at different times of day. And for those who wanting to stretch their legs further, there are many beautiful walks across open countryside close by.
