Once inside this character home you will soon realise that despite being an older property there is real balance of period charm and functionality, with all modern conveniences catered for. As you can see from the floor plan and photos the accommodation is bright, spacious and is offered in excellent decorative order throughout and measures just under 900 square feet.

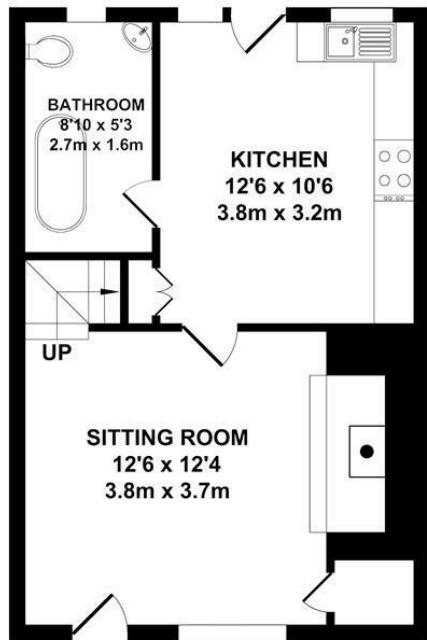

The property offers two good size bedrooms, with the master bedroom having a stunning vaulted ceiling with storage into the eaves. To the ground floor you will find spacious living accommodation including, a large reception which is well presented by the current owner. The room has lots of character including beams and feature fireplace with log burning stove. Just off the reception you will find a good size kitchen/diner with lots of ceiling height and has been fitted in a style to keep the charm of the property. Just like the kitchen the bathroom is located on the ground floor. This has been modernized by the current owner and keeps the style of the home.
