The first thing that drew me to the property was the wide, spacious, plot with land on all sides. Sideways on to the road, it is private and not overlooked. Two large patios and the mature, south facing, garden lend itself to outdoor living. The ensuite, separate receptions rooms and eat-in kitchen provide flexible accommodation. No through road gives the property a private, country, feel yet several villages and towns are on the doorstep. Cardiff city centre and the M4 motorway are but a short hop away, giving the best of both worlds.
