

Rock Ledge

SITUATION

The property lies in an elevated position on a no-through road and within only a few yards of unspoilt coastal land and the South West Coast Path, it's idyllic position enjoys breath taking panoramic views. The views span a panorama of the coastline in both directions. Looe Island lies in the foreground with Whitsand Bay and Rame Head in the distance to the east. Hannafore is a sought-after residential area, devoted to a selection of individual properties verging on open countryside on the very south western fringe of Looe. Within a mile, the fishing port still thrives and the estuary with its regular traffic of small commercial and pleasure craft provides constant fascination. The local amenities at West Looe are a stroll away, as is the town centre which is also within easy walking distance along with community facilities including a railway station which links to the Penzance to Paddington line at Liskeard. The coastline either side of Looe has beautiful and unspoilt access via the Cornwall South Coast Path, with substantial areas of ownership held by The National Trust. Tennis courts and a bowling green are located at Hannafore and Looe Bindown Golf Club is about four miles distant.
