DESCRIPTION

A handsome detached property dating back a few hundred years of colour washed local stone under a new tiled roof. The kitchen is a later addition and is rendered with a new rubberised flat roof. The property has had a number of improvements over the last 2 years including a new roof, new boiler and new wood burning stove complete with chimney liner. There are character features throughout with original doors and exposed A frames on the first floor with the main reception rooms having impressive Hamstone inglenook fireplaces. The garden is real feature of the property and is lovely large plot of around 1/3rd acre and at the rear is a private South facing terrace which is a real sun trap. There is a large detached garage/workshop which has great potential for anyone working from home or who has a hobby or interest.

ACCOMMODATION

An original wooden panelled front door with covered porch give access to the hallway with window to outside and access to the kitchen. The Kitchen looks over the driveway and garden and has an original fireplace with display niche to one side, there is a good range of cottage style wall and floor units with a tiled work surfaces and a tiled floor, ceramic sink, integral fridge and space for dishwasher, built in oven and ceramic hob over. Stable door to outside and step up to the utility area with space for washing machine, tumbler dryer and freezer, door to cloakroom with WC and wash hand basin. From the entrance hall, step down to a superb sitting room, a very spacious room with feature Hamstone inglenook fireplace, raised hearth and heavy beam over and incudes a recently installed Woodwarm wood burning stove with flu liner. This lovely dual aspect room has French doors leading out onto the South facing terrace, feature letterbox window, panelled wall and stairs rising to the first floor and understairs cupboard. There is a formal dining room, another beautiful room centring on a superb original Hamstone feature inglenook fireplace with raised hearth, heavy beam over, canopy and a small feature window. There are alcoves either side of the fireplace and a window seat. From the Sitting Room a narrow feature stable door leads into the Conservatory on the side of the property facing South and opening onto a private side garden and terrace that is a real suntrap.

Stairs from the Sitting Room rise to the first floor landing and into Bedroom one, a spacious triple aspect room, Bedroom 2 with dual aspect and Bedroom 3 another double room with access to the loft which is fully insulated and part boarded. All bedrooms have exposed A frames and either garden or rural views. There is a family bathroom with garden views has a shower cubicle, ball and claw foot freestanding bath, wash hand basin, WC and airing cupboard.

OUTSIDE

A five bar gate leads onto a gravel driveway with turning and parking for numerous cars. A large detached garage/workshop, with wooden doors open to allow parking for 2 cars with further space for storage or hobbies with water, power and light. This building has huge potential subject to the necessary planning consents. A pathway around the back to the private terrace with small area of lawn. The entire garden is fully enclosed by natural hedging, mature trees and shrubs with established flower borders, apple trees, well tendered lawns and has fabulous rural views. In all we believe the plot size to be around 1/3rd acre. There is a old timber dog kennel with run behind a beech hedge.
