SITUATION

The property occupies a peaceful rural setting within the small village of Nymet Tracey. The village of Bow is just over a mile away offering an excellent range of local services, including small supermarket, primary school, doctors surgery and village hall. The larger towns of Okehampton and Crediton are also within easy travelling distance. Okehampton is situated on the northern fringes of the Dartmoor National Park, and offers an excellent range of local and nationally owned shops and businesses. There is schooling from infant to comprehensive level, cinema and leisure centre in the attractive setting of Simmons Park. The cathedral and university city of Exeter is only some 16 miles away, with its large shopping centre, M5 motorway, main line rail and international air connections.

DESCRIPTION

A superb Grade II listed barn, believed to have been converted in 1990 and further extended above the carports around 2000. Located within this small rural hamlet, set attractively in a courtyard with just 3 other barns in the development. The barn has been finished to high standard and boasts oil fired underfloor heating on both floors and timber double glazing. The electrics have also been recently upgraded to current standards. There is a wealth of exposed timbers and beams and quality oak finishes. A number of rooms have vaulted ceilings giving a feeling of space and the barn is very flexible, being suitable for large family occupation or the potential to create a separate annexe. There is ample parking and several carports, together with an attractive enclosed garden to the rear with workshop and potting shed. The property is offered with no ongoing chain and viewing is highly recommended.
