Explanation of charges

Service Charge
This charge will cover the cost of staffing and providing on site services such as scheme management, cleaning of the communal areas, gardening/ground maintenance, servicing of communal area equipment, building insurance for the fabric of the building, and communal TV system.

Service charges are based on the estimated charge of providing the services and adjusted annually according to actual costs of provision.

Amenity Charge (Utilities)
This charge covers all your personal fuel, water and sewage costs, so the only other normal bills you would pay to live in Brookside would be for council tax (you may be exempt) and any personal amenities such as your phone or TV service.

Other Costs
If you are considering moving to Brookside, there are other costs that you should be aware of.

Care and Support Costs
There will be a base level of support that will be provided for all residents (the core service). The core service at Brookside has a supporting people weekly charge of £9.75 per apartment. This covers Community Alarm monitoring and 24-Hour Response.

The amount you may pay for any support or care will depend on your individual needs and your income and expenditure.

These charges are payable direct to the onsite Care provider Guardian Care.

Daily Living Costs
You will need to pay for all your daily living costs, which include but are not exclusive to; council tax, TV license, home contents insurance and food.

Repairs
Leaseholders are responsible for repairs to apartments. YHG are able to offer an optional repairs service for £43.93 month.

Sinking Fund (Leaseholders and Shared Ownership only)
The sinking fund is a contribution to the funding of future major repairs.

In our lease, this is based on 1% of the market value of the property annually and is collected when you sell your apartment.

Welfare Benefits Advice
If you want to work out if you may be entitled to claim pension credit, or other sources of financial assistance to help pay for the charges in Brookside then please contact the Sales Team, who will pass your information on to a person who can advise.
