Location

Great Sankey and neighboring Penketh are amongst the most affluent parts of Warrington, north of the River Mersey. Its key position near the M62 motorway links, and being in between the cities of Liverpool and Manchester, make it a popular place to live. The area has continued to see the development of Chapelford Urban Village, with new restaurants and shopping facilities near by. The development on the former Burtonwood Airbase (now known as Omega) also continue.

The secondary school is Great Sankey High School. This site also contains facilities for its sixth form under the name of Barrow Hall College. Nine primary schools (Barrow Hall, St Philips, Park Road, Old Hall, St Joseph's, Chapelford Village, St James, Callands and Burtonwood) serve Great Sankey.

Sankey railway station is on the Liverpool to Manchester line and served by an hourly service of stopping trains run by Northern. Bus services link the area with Warrington Town Centre. Great Sankey is on the A57 road linking Warrington with the M62 motorway at junction 7. The nearest airport is Liverpool John Lennon Airport.
