Thwaites House

Chop Gate, North Yorkshire

Thwaites House is a well-proportioned four bedroom detached farmhouse, situated within the north western extent of the North York Moors National Park. Whilst the property is situated in a rural setting, along a private, gated track set back from the public highway, Stokesley town centre and its extensive amenities is only 8 miles to the north, and the market town of Helmsley 13 miles to the south. The property also benefits from being accessible to Northallerton, Darlington, and Teesside, offering proximity to the A1, and train and airport connections.

The property has been much improved over the years, whilst still offering considerable scope for further development (subject to the necessary permissions) to create a superb family home with business potential and/or annex accommodation and home office, within substantial and attractive gardens and land.

Thwaites House is in a secluded and idyllic rural location, offering a nature lover's haven, with an abundance of moorland birds, small mammals, moths and butterflies, across open moorland and woodland. The National Park is a wonderful setting for walking, running, cycling, horse riding, water sports, and numerous outdoor activities.
