A charming pergola draped with climbing roses adds a romantic focal point, while a timber shed and a summer house provide practical storage and an additional retreat for work or leisure. Areas laid to pea gravel soften the landscaping and offer low-maintenance appeal.

To the front, the garden is mainly laid to gravel, giving the property a smart, tidy approach with ample off-road parking leading to the garage. Flower and shrub borders add warmth and character, complemented by the presence of an established oak tree that anchors the setting with a sense of maturity and charm.
