The Property

28a Headland Road offers an unusual opportunity to acquire a detached home on this prominent coastal road. Occupying an end plot beside the access to Little Fistral car park, the property stands approximately 500 yards from Fistral Beach, with views across the golf course towards the Atlantic from the upper floors.

In recent years, much of Headland Road has been transformed by luxury apartment development, making a detached residential property in this position increasingly hard to find. Built in the 1990s, the house is of modern construction and now offers considerable scope for improvement. A full refurbishment could create a distinctive contemporary beach house, while buyers may also wish to investigate the possibility of replacement or redevelopment*.

A private driveway provides off road parking for two or three vehicles and leads to a large integral garage. The garage also provides direct access into the house, offering valuable storage and practical access in a location so close to the beach.

The lower ground floor forms the main entrance level. Although there are no external windows on this floor, it includes an entrance hall, stairs to the upper accommodation, internal access to the garage, a utility room and a separate room suitable for storage or use as a workshop.

The main living accommodation occupies the middle floor. Wide picture windows bring in plenty of natural light and frame views over the golf course towards the breaking waves of Fistral Beach. The layout includes a generous lounge and dining space, a kitchen, cloakroom and side conservatory, with the conservatory opening directly onto the garden.

On the top floor are two double bedrooms, each with an en suite bathroom. A dual aspect landing between the bedrooms offers useful space for a desk, reading area or compact workspace. This level also enjoys elevated coastal views to the front and rear.

With its detached position, private parking, substantial garage and scope for transformation, 28a Headland Road stands apart from the surrounding development. It presents the chance to create an individual coastal home within a few hundred yards of Fistral Beach, the golf course and the Atlantic coastline.

Location

Headland Road is one of Newquay's most distinctive coastal addresses, positioned between Fistral Beach, Little Fistral and the town's dramatic Atlantic headland. The property's proximity to Fistral Beach places one of Cornwall's best-known surfing beaches within a short walk.

The area is particularly well suited to those looking for immediate access to the coast, with scenic clifftop walks, the golf course, beachside cafés, restaurants and The Headland Hotel all close by. Little Fistral and the harbour are also within easy reach, while Newquay town centre offers a broad range of shops, services and leisure facilities.
