Lea village is only a mile away and includes a lovely primary school, the fantastic Jug & Glass pub (a big favourite with our team) and the famous Rhododendron Gardens.

A path on the left leads to the lawned side garden and gate to the rear garden. On the right, another path goes past a wall-mounted tap to raised flower beds and another gate to the rear garden. At the front, the substantial decked terrace is bordered by iron railings - there is lots of space here for seating, outdoor dining and planters. It's a fantastic place from which to relax with friends and family and enjoy the views.
