Set along the southern edge of the Gower Peninsula, this coastal setting is shaped by open skies, rolling countryside and a striking coastline. Nearby beaches such as Caswell and Langland offer golden sand and clear waters, while cliff top walks and scenic trails provide a daily connection to nature. Southgate has a relaxed village feel with local cafés, pubs and amenities close by in Mumbles, alongside well regarded schools and straightforward access into Swansea.

In this elevated position, the home enjoys a notable sense of privacy and far reaching sea views, set within a generous plot of just over a third of an acre. Approached through electric gates, the driveway provides ample parking and leads to a detached garage, setting a calm and discreet tone on arrival.

Internally, the layout is well balanced and designed for both everyday living and entertaining. A central hallway introduces a series of versatile reception rooms, including a comfortable lounge positioned to take full advantage of the coastal outlook, a separate sitting room for quieter use, and a dining room that sits conveniently alongside the kitchen. A cloakroom completes the ground floor.

Upstairs, three double bedrooms are arranged off the landing, each filled with natural light. The principal bedroom benefits from an en suite, while a family bathroom serves the remaining rooms.

Outside, the gardens are a standout feature. To the rear, a wide patio provides space for outdoor dining and relaxation, stepping down to a generous lawn bordered by mature planting and established shrubs. The grounds also include a summer house, garden shed and a versatile outbuilding with power and light, offering flexible use. The sense of privacy is strong throughout, with greenery enclosing the space and creating a calm backdrop to daily life.

This is a home that brings together coastal views, substantial gardens and adaptable living space in one of the Gower's most desirable locations.
