Occupying a prominent corner position at the junction of Milner Street and Halsey Street, this exceptional four-bedroom, four-bathroom house has been newly refurbished to an exceptional standard. The property offers a rare blend of luxury residential living with commercial flexibility.

Arranged over multiple floors the property features beautifully proportioned living and entertaining spaces, finished with meticulous attention to detail. The bespoke kitchen is fitted with Miele appliances, complemented by elegant cabinetry and stone worktops, while in-built speaker systems and underfloor heating enhance comfort and modern living across the house.

Each of the four bathrooms has been individually designed using bespoke marble finishes, creating a refined, hotel-quality feel, while the bedroom accommodation offers excellent storage and natural light.

A truly unique feature of the property is the ground-floor commercial unit, held under the same freehold title as the residential house. This provides a highly attractive opportunity for purchasers, offering a lower rate stamp duty due to the mixed-use classification, alongside potential rental income or business use (subject to the usual consents).
