The property was built in the 1920's, very much to the art deco vernacular and it is thought to have been originally a school/church room. The current owners have converted the property, yet many features remain and boasts also high ceilings and large picture windows which affords the property much natural light. The property extends to almost 970 Sqft and the large loft space could easily be converted subject to planning consents. The accommodation comprises a generous reception hall incorporating a study area with fitted storage cupboards and book shelving. The sitting/dining room is a generously proportioned dual aspect room with attractive solid wood flooring. The kitchen is fitted with a range of base level and wall mounted storage cupboards, ample fitted working surfaces with inset double sink unit with mixer tap and drainer, ceramic hob, oven, extractor plus space for a fridge/freezer and dishwasher and a wall mounted gas fired central heating boiler. There is an inner hallway with fitted storage cupboards, off of which are three bedrooms, a family bathroom, separate WC plus a laundry cupboard housing a washing machine.

Outside, the driveway provides parking for two cars and a manageable paved courtyard garden is enclosed by fencing with raised beds and enjoys good levels of privacy.
