This attractive period home on Sturton Street is within easy reach of Mill Road, Cambridge Station and scenic river walks into the historic city centre. The property has been newly decorated and improved by replacement double glazed sash windows to the front façade and an attractive, high quality front entrance door.

The accommodation comprises a large, open reception room (formerly two rooms) with an open feature staircase leading to the first-floor accommodation, a period open fireplace and a concealed airing cupboard. A modern and well-equipped kitchen provides an extensive range of matching cabinets, a solid wood worktop with an inset sink and drainer, plumbing for a washing machine and space for a range of freestanding appliances. The gas-fired boiler is located within the kitchen. A bathroom completes the ground floor accommodation.

Upstairs, a small landing area provides access to the loft via a hatch and leads to two double bedrooms.

Outside, there is a mature east-facing rear garden, which extends to approximately 100ft in length. Established small trees and shrubs are planted to both sides. The bottom of the garden provides space to erect a contemporary home office (subject to necessary consent). There is pedestrian access via neighbouring gardens leading to a gated passage which opens to the street.
