A NOTE FROM OUR VENDOR

We moved into The Hollies three and a half years ago. It is a beautiful cottage in a wonderful area. We had previously lived in Stroud and at the time we knew little about Lower Framilode and the surrounding areas of Saul, Frampton and Arlington; it was a brilliant decision to move here. Lower Framilode is a hamlet right on the banks of the River Severn. All of the surrounding fields are accessible for dog walking; we are spoiled for choice and all are within a 2 minute walk from the house. The area is quiet, extremely safe, and with excellent views across the river and local farmland. The neighbours are friendly and all know each other well.

There are many nearby pubs with good food; The Bell Inn located on The Village Green in Frampton, The Ship Inn at Upper Framilode, and The Red Lion in Arlington are our favourites. Frampton also has a small village shop, and the stunning Frampton Court Estate is a wonderful walk and stages several events throughout the year, such as the Frampton Country Fair. The Frampton Village Green is lovely to visit in the summer where you can eat outside and children can play. The canal runs through Saul has a lovely cafe to visit and a canal path that which is great for walks, running and cycling. You can also paddle board and kayak down the canal or the nearby River Frome.

We absolutely love our house and the area, but sadly have to move out due to our expanded family size.
