About The Property

This well-presented, non-estate three-bedroom bungalow sits in the semi rural village of Capel Iwan, West Wales. Just a ten-minute drive from the popular market town of Newcastle Emlyn, it offers a convenient balance between countryside living and access to local amenities, including a secondary school, shops, and places to eat.

The bungalow has a comfortable, easy layout with spacious rooms, practical updates, and a homely finish. A tarmac driveway at the front provides off-road parking for several vehicles, leading to a garage that's currently best suited for storage as it has been partly converted to provide a wet room accessed from the home, adding functionality without sacrificing parking space outside.

Inside, the hallway leads through to a good-sized lounge with a feature fireplace and an LPG coal-effect fire set in a marble surround. The room enjoys plenty of natural light through a wide front-facing window, with enough space for a range of furniture layouts.

The kitchen and breakfast room is a real focal point — fitted with a modern set of wall and base units, plus a central island with an Oak worktop and breakfast bar. The kitchen has an induction hob with extractor fan over, an eye-level double oven, and an integral fridge/freezer and dishwasher. There's room to cook, eat and gather all in one spot, with a view out across the rear garden and welcoming.

Just off the kitchen through an archway, the dining room has glazed double doors leading straight out to the rear garden. It's a very useful space, currently set up for mealtimes, but could double as a snug, hobby room or even a home office.

The utility room adds another layer of practicality, with its own fitted units, sink and space for a washing machine and dryer. A side door from here leads directly to the back garden and also connects to the storage room/garage, making it ideal for managing everyday jobs out of sight. The modern wet room is also accessed from the utility room.

There are three bedrooms in total. Bedroom one and bedroom three both face the front of the property and are well-sized, each with built-in storage. Bedroom two, at the rear, looks out over the garden and fields, and also includes built-in wardrobes.

The main bathroom features a bath with shower over, tiled floor, and part-tiled walls — all kept in neutral modern tones.

Outside, the rear garden makes the most of its position, with open views across farmland. There's a patio area directly behind the bungalow for outdoor seating, plus a timber-decked area to one side that's ideal for placing outdoor furniture or a barbecue. A small summer house sits on the decked area, adding another space to relax or work from during warmer months.

A timber workshop is also included, providing plenty of storage or work space for tools, gardening gear or small projects. The front garden has a mix of lawn and shrubs, giving the property a smart look from the road without being high maintenance.

This is a comfortable, well-maintained home with room for everyday life both inside and out. The current owners have spent time and money updating the key areas, making it ready to move into with minimal fuss. Located within easy reach of Newcastle Emlyn and just a short drive from the coast around Cardigan Bay, it's a practical spot with the added bonus of open views and village surroundings.
