About The Property

Looking for a rural home with a touch of coastal magic? This property offers a unique opportunity with two homes, private rear gardens, and endless possibilities for family living or income potential.

This charming property, located in the tranquil hamlet of Penbontrhydyfothau, offers a rare opportunity to enjoy rural living with a coastal touch. Set in its own grounds, this detached property includes two separate homes: a spacious stone house and an attached cottage, both full of character and original features.

Whether it's used as a family home, for multi-generational living, or as an income-generating property, the possibilities are endless.

The main house, a pretty stone-built property, offers plenty of space with four bedrooms and two reception rooms, making it ideal for comfortable family living. Original touches, such as quarry-tiled floors, exposed beams, and a striking kitchen fireplace with ovens, add warmth and character to every room. The kitchen and dining area features ample space for family meals, with a working fireplace (original ovens no longer in use) adding a rustic touch. There's a separate utility room with plumbing for washing machines and space for storage. The upstairs includes two double bedrooms, two single bedrooms (one with some restricted headroom), and a family bathroom. The property's rear garden, with its patio area and extensive lawn, is perfect for outdoor entertaining or simply enjoying the beautiful views of the surrounding countryside.

Next to the main house is Bryn Y Gof, a one-bedroom cottage that is perfect for guests or could easily be used as a rental property for additional income. The cottage is full of original charm, from the bespoke wooden kitchen cupboards to the wood-burning stove in the lounge area. The open-plan living space flows into a spacious bedroom upstairs, with a freestanding bath in the room and an en-suite shower room.

Outside, the cottage has its own private garden backing onto open countryside and parking space, offering independence from the main house.

Externally:

The main house has off road parking to the front for 3 vehicles and an attached garage. The mature rear garden accessed either from the side gate, or out of the kitchen, offers a beautiful place to relax and enjoy and add to the appeal of this property. There is a patio area outside the kitchen which is perfect for alfresco dining and entertaining. Paths and steps lead down to a lawn area with mature hedging, wildlife pond and another patio area.

The location is equally appealing, being just a short drive from the popular beaches of Llangrannog, Cwmttydu, and New Quay. With its coastal beauty and rural serenity, the area offers the best of both worlds, with easy access to the Ceredigion Coastal Path and vibrant local communities. New Quay is just a short drive away, offering a range of amenities, including shops, restaurants, and a primary school.
