About The Property

Looking for a detached coastal home within walking distance of shops, beaches and the Pembrokeshire Coast Path? This three bedroom chalet style bungalow in Dinas Cross offers flexible accommodation, a conservatory, garage and ample parking, all set within a good sized plot in one of the most popular spots along Cardigan Bay in West Wales.

Set within the sought-after coastal village of Dinas Cross, this detached chalet-style bungalow offers practical, well-balanced accommodation in a location that continues to attract buyers looking for life close to Cardigan Bay and the wider coastline of West Wales.

Positioned within walking distance of the village shop, bus route, fish and chip shop and fuelling station, the setting works particularly well for day-to-day convenience. The beaches at Pwllgwaelod and Cwm yr Eglwys are around a 15-minute walk away, with direct access to the Pembrokeshire Coast Path close by. Newport and Fishguard are both within easy reach, offering a wider range of shops, schools, cafés and everyday facilities.

The property sits behind a low wall and decorative railings, with a front garden and driveway leading to the garage, providing off-road parking for several vehicles. The overall plot offers plenty of outside space to enjoy and scope for further landscaping if desired.

Inside, the layout is straightforward and practical. The hallway connects the main ground-floor rooms, including a spacious lounge/dining room positioned at the front and side of the property. This is a well-proportioned room with ample space for both seating and dining areas, making it ideal for family gatherings or relaxed evenings. A feature fireplace creates a focal point, while double doors lead through to the conservatory.

The conservatory overlooks the rear garden and provides an additional reception space that works well as a sitting area, hobby room or dining extension during the warmer months. With direct access out to the garden, it adds flexibility to the ground floor layout.

The kitchen sits to the front of the property and is fitted with a range of wall and base units, worktop space and room for appliances. There is a side door leading out, which is particularly useful for garden access.

Also on the ground floor is one of the three bedrooms, a comfortable double room that would equally suit use as a study or second reception room depending on requirements. The family bathroom is fitted with a bath, wash hand basin and W.C., offering practical facilities on the main level.

Upstairs, the chalet style design provides two further bedrooms set within the roofline. Both rooms are well proportioned, with pleasant outlooks across the surrounding area. A separate W.C. on this floor adds convenience, especially for family living or visiting guests.

Outside, the rear garden offers a good amount of space for seating, gardening or simply enjoying the coastal air. The plot size gives the property a sense of openness that is often sought after in village locations. The garage provides additional storage or workshop potential, alongside the driveway parking.

Overall, this is a well positioned detached home offering flexible accommodation and scope for modernisation if desired. Its location within walking distance of beaches and everyday amenities, combined with the practicality of garage and parking, makes it a strong option for those seeking a coastal property in West Wales.
