Sitting down a private, no through road on the outskirts of the charming village of Gilfachrheda, near New Quay, this detached house with 4 bedrooms, two en suites, offers a perfect blend of tranquillity and convenience. This property provides ample space for comfortable living, together with two stone outbuildings, two store sheds and one stone log shed.

The coastal village of New Quay offers many amenities such as a doctor's surgery, a large Primary school, a supermarket, a fire station, a lifeboat station (RNLI), pubs, cafes and restaurants and so much more, making New Quay an attractive place to live, with its beautiful scenery, harbour, dolphin sightings, sandy beaches and rugged coastline. Situated in a secluded yet not isolated location with just a few neighbours nearby, you can enjoy this lovely setting while still being part of a small community. The property's proximity to New Quay Beach and Harbour, within easy driving distance, ensures that you can soak up the sun and enjoy seaside activities whenever you please. And being only around a 28 minute walk to Cei Bach Beach and being surrounded by woodland walks means you have plenty of walking opportunities right on your doorstep.

Step inside, via the main entrance into the lounge, with a wood burning stove on a slate hearth with stone surround and a good sized window to the front offering views over the wooded valley. Doors from here lead into the kitchen, utility and hallway.

The kitchen has tiled flooring, fitted, matching wooden wall and base units with work top over, stainless steel sink and drainer, built-in eye level electric double oven and grill, space and plumbing for a dishwasher, space for a freestanding fridge freezer and open wooden stairs up to one of the first floors.

Above the kitchen is an open room currently used as a music/craft room but could easily lend itself to being a dressing room, or overflow guest room, with a window in the pine end overlooking the side garden and driveway.

Personal Statement from the Owners
"We have been living at Dolau Cottage for around five years. Its biggest attraction is the unique location within a beautiful valley. The woodlands and streams nearby have been an immense and immersive experience which we continue to enjoy on a daily basis. We feel right amongst nature. The nearby beaches and unspoilt coast are another underlying draw which convinced us Dolau was the right place for us. Purchasing two electric bikes really opened up the local area in a way we didn't anticipate. The ride to New Quay, Aberaeron, Cwmtedu and Llangrannog suddenly became within reach, with no need for the car. In summer, we often break from our work to lunch on the harbour wall ...and yes, dolphins do frequently make an appearance! Unfortunately, we need to move further north to be nearer family and have accepted that we now have to part ways with Dolau.

The cottage is spacious, light and comfortable, providing flexible accommodation. It could be configured to have a separate self-contained annexe, be a generous 4-bedroom family home or an occasional bed and breakfast. In addition, we have found the property to be economical to run. We fully utilise the multifuel stove backed up with effective oil-fired central heating. Together with council tax D, we have been very satisfied with its affordability. We leave with a heavy heart."
