About The Property

Looking for a detached three-bedroom home with flexible accommodation, a gated driveway, a detached garage and a nice-sized garden, all set within a cul-de-sac in popular Cilgerran? This well-kept dormer bungalow offers practical living space over two floors, with a ground floor bedroom and WC, a bright kitchen/diner, and easy access to Cardigan, Cardigan Bay and the wider West Wales coastline.

Set within a cul-de-sac in the popular village of Cilgerran, this detached three-bedroom dormer bungalow offers a very appealing mix of practicality, parking and outside space. With a gated driveway providing room for around three to four vehicles, a detached garage and an enclosed rear garden with lawned areas, patio space, greenhouse and garden shed, it is a house that works well for everyday life while still offering plenty of flexibility.

The property has a smart and well-kept appearance from the front, with the detached garage positioned to one side of the driveway and a paved path leading around to the rear garden. The outside space is a real asset here, with a good balance of lawn, patio and planted areas, giving it a family-friendly feel while still being manageable. The greenhouse and garden shed add useful extra storage and growing space, and the garden has enough room for seating, play or general enjoyment through the year.

The front door opens into the hallway, which sets the tone for the rest of the house with a simple, tidy finish. Stairs rise to the first floor, there is a useful understairs cupboard for storage, and doors lead off to the main ground floor rooms. This layout gives the house a flexible edge, particularly with a bedroom and WC on the ground floor.

The living room is a comfortable main reception space with wood-effect flooring and a window overlooking the garden, bringing in a pleasant outlook and good natural light. It is a straightforward room with enough space for everyday seating and television furniture, making it easy to see as the main room for relaxing.

The kitchen/dining room runs across the other side of the ground floor and is a really practical part of the house. There is a range of base and wall units, worktop space, a one-and-a-half bowl sink, space for a washing machine and fridge freezer, and a freestanding gas cooker. The dining area sits comfortably within the room, making it a sociable space for day-to-day meals, while the outlook towards the garden helps it feel bright and usable. A door to the rear gives direct access outside, which is particularly handy for the garden, garage and general day-to-day coming and going.

Also on the ground floor is bedroom three, which could just as easily serve as a study, hobby room or occasional second sitting room depending on what is needed. Having this extra room on the ground floor makes the overall layout more adaptable than many three-bedroom homes. Alongside it is the ground floor WC, fitted with toilet and wash hand basin, which is always useful in a house arranged over two floors.

Upstairs, the landing leads to two further bedrooms and the family bathroom. Bedroom two is a double room with built-in wardrobes and a dormer window, giving it good usable wall space as well as natural light. Bedroom one is another double and has a particularly practical layout, with both a Velux and dormer window, fitted storage cupboards and further under-eaves storage. It is a room that makes the most of the roofline and offers more storage than first expected.

The bathroom is well arranged and fitted with a bath, separate shower, WC and wash hand basin with storage below, along with a Velux window bringing in natural light. It is a well-balanced family bathroom and suits the upstairs layout well.

Overall, this is a house with a lot going for it. The detached design, parking, garage, enclosed garden and flexible room arrangement all add to its appeal, while the cul-de-sac setting within Cilgerran makes it especially well suited to buyers looking for village life with practical surroundings. Cilgerran itself remains a well-regarded place to live, known for its historic castle, strong sense of community and easy reach of Cardigan, with the coast of Cardigan Bay and the wider attractions of West Wales also within convenient distance.

A very solid all-round home in a good village setting, and one that is well worth a closer look. Please get in touch to arrange a viewing.
