About The Property

This three-bedroom semi-detached house offers a well-balanced layout with practical features throughout, in need of some updating. It's positioned in a residential area and would suit those looking for a home with useful outdoor space, storage, and the flexibility to adapt to changing needs over time.

Situated in a sought-after area at the top end of the popular market town of Cardigan, West Wales, within easy access to all this beautiful town has to offer including both the primary and secondary schools, shops, supermarkets and more, and within easy driving distance to the Cardigan Bay coast with all its many pretty, sandy beaches and stunning coastal path.

There's off-road parking for one vehicle along with access to a garage. A small front garden area gives the house some separation from the pavement and leads to a glass conservatory-style porch, providing a useful space before entering the main part of the house. From the porch, the entrance hall connects directly into a full-length lounge/dining area. This space runs front to back and is filled with natural light from both ends. A feature fireplace sits at the centre of the lounge and sliding patio doors at the back of the room provide direct access to the rear garden. The size of this room allows for flexible furniture arrangements and space for dining and living zones.

Next to the dining area, the kitchen is small but straightforward and functional room. There's space for an oven and undercounter fridge, and the sink is well positioned under the window with a view of the garden. From the kitchen, a door leads into an additional space that's currently used as a utility and storage area. This room also includes a downstairs W/C and gives access to the rear garden. A second door leads into a covered walkway that connects the front of the house with the garage, keeping access sheltered during bad weather.

The garage offers parking for a second vehicle or room for storage. Subject to local planning regulations, it also presents an option for conversion or further use depending on future needs.

Upstairs, there are two double bedrooms, both with built-in storage cupboards, and a third bedroom suitable as a single, home office or nursery. The bathroom has a bath with an electric shower over it, a wash hand basin and a W/C. On the landing, there's an airing cupboard housing the wall-mounted gas boiler.

Externally:

To the rear, the garden has an enclosed walled patio area which is ideal for some al fresco dining and seating, which leads onto a lawn with planted borders. This space works well for outdoor furniture, children playing, or gardening. It's manageable in size, offering a private outdoor area without being high maintenance.

Overall, this house brings together a practical layout, a decent amount of storage, and garden space that adds value to everyday living. It's well suited for couples, young families, or those wanting to move to a property with scope to make it their own over time.
