About The Property

Looking for a home that offers stylish living with space to grow, all within reach of Cardigan Bay?

This three-bedroom detached house in West Wales combines modern finishes, practical storage, and a private garden, set in a friendly semi-rural village close to the coast.

Positioned at the end of a small cul-de-sac in Penparc, this recently built detached house sits on a generous corner plot within an exclusive development. Just a short drive from the coast and Cardigan town, the location blends everyday convenience with easy access to the beaches and countryside of West Wales.

The property's block-paved driveway offers parking for two vehicles and leads to a detached garage, with the extra space of a corner position adding both privacy and flexibility for outdoor living. Inside, the hallway sets the tone with engineered wood flooring and underfloor heating across the ground floor. Doors lead to the lounge, kitchen/diner, and ground floor WC.

The lounge provides a comfortable space for relaxing, with a mock fireplace giving a focal point to the room. Beyond, the kitchen/diner is the heart of the home — vaulted over the dining area with double Velux roof windows and patio doors opening to the garden. It's fitted with granite worktops, a butler sink with built-in drainer, integrated fridge freezer and

Externally:
The garden layout works well for both everyday use and entertaining. Gated access on both sides leads to the rear, with the left-hand side offering a paved seating area that connects to the utility room and flows on to the main lawn. Mature shrubs and planting frame the space, with steps at the far end leading to a tucked-away storage area. The garage is complemented by a bin store and an additional storage room — ideal for outdoor equipment, beach gear, or seasonal items.
