About The Property

 AUCTION PROPERTY - Guide Price £275,000 - Auction TBC

For sale by unconditional online auction, registration is now open.

Looking for a property with character, space and potential in the Pembrokeshire National Park? This traditional part-renovated Welsh home with an additional two-bedroom stone cottage (sold as fully furnished) sits in 1.6 acres of gardens, woodland and meadow, with a stream running through and glorious views over the Preseli Hills and Cardigan Bay countryside.

Substantial renovation project. Structural work is completed; intended as a 4-bedroom home over three floors. Sold as seen. The house envelope is insulated to above current regs.

Set in the heart of the Pembrokeshire National Park, this traditional part-renovated Welsh home, together with a charming two-bedroom stone cottage, sits within approximately 1.6 acres of meadow, woodland and garden. The property enjoys the most captivating setting, with a clear stream running through the land and far-reaching views across the Preseli Hills and moors. Peaceful yet well connected, the hamlet of Pontyglasier offers a wonderful sense of rural life, with the bustling coastal town of Newport only 3.5 miles away, and Cardigan just under 9 miles for a full range of shops, schools and services.

Approached via a private driveway, the main house sits proudly among the greenery. Parking is available for several vehicles, and the driveway continues around to a second spacious parking area serving the cottage and outbuildings. The main home is a traditional Welsh stone property with scope to be completed into a spacious four-bedroom family home. Many of the structural works have been done, offering an excellent opportunity for those wishing to finish it to their own specification and taste.

Auction Guide £275,000

Continued:
Inside, the layout has been designed to provide generous living space, with a focus on character features and countryside views. The ground floor offers a large open-plan living and dining area with cast iron fireplace with White ash surround. (Should the buyer not wish the cast iron fireplace with White ash surround, then the owner will remove it prior to completion),

The kitchen area is spacious and leads to the rear possible utility room and plant room.

Upstairs, the first floor allows for three further bedrooms and a family bathroom, all with views over the gardens and stream to the back and stunning views over the countryside to the front, this space is adaptable to the buyer's needs, up onto the 2nd floor is another spacious room that again could be adapted to further bedrooms or just one extra special bedroom.

The adjoining two-bedroom holiday cottage offers excellent income potential or could be used as overflow accommodation for family and friends. The cottage has its own allocated parking area and garden space, making it a comfortable and private unit. Retaining much of its original character, it includes exposed stone walls, a cosy living room, a fitted kitchen, a shower room and two bedrooms, one downstairs and one on the upper floor (which has restricted head space)

Outside, the gardens are a real feature. A combination of mature woodland, natural meadow and well-established garden areas creates a wonderful sense of space and privacy. The stream winds gently through the land, adding movement and charm, while a range of outbuildings and a garage provide useful storage or workshop options. The surrounding countryside offers countless walking opportunities, with footpaths and bridleways connecting directly to the Preseli Hills.

This property is ideal for those seeking a project in a setting of genuine natural beauty, with enormous potential for creating a family home and a thriving holiday cottage business. The proximity to the Pembrokeshire coast, Newport, and the wider Cardigan Bay area of West Wales makes it an appealing option for full-time living or a lifestyle change in one of the most picturesque parts of the region.
