About The Property

This is a wonderful home with a beautifully landscaped garden. This well-situated three-bedroom semi brings together traditional charm and modern updates close to Cardigan town, schools, and open green spaces and walks close by.

Sitting on a small, established cul-de-sac that leads off a residential street, this three-bedroom semi-detached house brings together practical living spaces with thoughtful finishes and a garden that's been well looked after over the years.

The entrance hallway sets the tone, with wood-style flooring, a cupboard under the stairs. To one side is a good-sized lounge, where a central fireplace and gas fire give the space a natural focal point. At the rear, patio doors make it easy to step straight out to the garden. Across the hall, the dining room has a bay window to the front, another period-style fireplace, and a wide arch through to a breakfast area—this layout works well for both everyday use and hosting a few friends or family.

The breakfast area links directly to the kitchen and adds an extra bit of flexibility. There's a breakfast bar, some extra base units, and a walk-in pantry for keeping everything tidy and organised. The kitchen itself runs along the back of the house and includes a full set of fitted wall and base units, a freestanding gas oven and hob, and plumbing in place for a washing machine. A window over the sink gives a full view of the rear garden.

Upstairs, there are two double bedrooms and one single room. Both double bedrooms have enough room for wardrobes and drawers without things feeling cramped. The third room could suit as a child's bedroom or a home office depending on what's needed. The bathroom is modern, with a corner shower unit offering mains-powered water pressure, a separate bath, basin, and WC. It's tiled in neutral tones and well-maintained.

Continued;

The garden at the back of the house has been thoughtfully landscaped to balance greenery with practical areas for sitting out or potting up plants. A paved patio runs directly behind the house, with a second gravelled section separated by a low brick wall, offering a bit of privacy for different uses. The lawn area is framed with well-stocked borders, and there's a mature mix of flowering shrubs and fruit trees, including apple, plum, and a Nashi pear. Fencing runs around the edge, and there's a side gate for easy access.

To the front, there's a pathway leading you to the side of the home and the front door, and off-street parking for 2 cars.

The location is another strong point. This cul-de-sac has a settled feel, and while it's tucked away, it's also only a short walk from nearby playing fields and footpaths. The town centre is easily reachable by foot or bike, and several well-regarded schools are also close at hand.

In terms of the overall condition, this is a house that's been well cared for and updated where needed, but still keeps some original charm, especially with the fireplaces and bay window. It's well suited for those looking to move into a home that's already practical and comfortable, with scope to personalise further if desired.

The combination of layout, location and garden space will appeal to anyone looking for a welcoming home that also works well for day-to-day living.
