The light that floods in via the glass frontage is magical and great for passive solar gain, even in winter on a sunny day I don't need heating when others are using theirs. My home is so peaceful and secluded, with incredible views. I love that I can walk everywhere from here, being just a few minutes from the seafront and Hill Road bars. There are lovely neighbours but you hardly know they're there, with the house and garden being so private. It's a great entertaining home and basically no one knows it's here, that's the way I like it.'
