"We absolutely love our garden. The front of the house gives no indication that it's there, but the view pulls you through as soon as you step inside. All you can see is green, with the beautiful willow tree at the end catching the evening sun in its leaves. It's incredibly peaceful. Over the last 11 years, we've made so many memories: BBQs with friends, quiet coffees on the patio before work, and watching our young daughter race up and down the garden. It's been a wonderful house to call home."
