"We were instantly drawn to the high ceilings and big proportions, making for a light and airy space. We've carefully refurbished the house over the years, taking our time to create a calm and warm home. One of our favourite spots has to be the garden, which is private and south west facing, so a real sun-trap. To this day we are amazed by the peacefulness and quiet that feels a million miles away from the bustle of North Street even though it is in fact only 50 meters away. We have loved our time in Southville and on Fairfield Road and we're now proud to offer someone else the chance to love it as much as we have."
