"One of our favourite things about the house has always been the garden. It's a wonderful extension of the living space and somewhere we've spent countless hours relaxing, entertaining friends and enjoying time as a family. The house itself has been a fantastic home, offering plenty of space for day-to-day life, while the garden provides a real sense of privacy and calm. We'll miss watching the seasons change from the kitchen window and making memories here, but we're excited for someone new to enjoy it as much as we have."
