"Totterdown is an amazingly unique area which feels like a suburb, but is super central, which means we feel like we get the best of both worlds. We regularly go for picnics in Perrets Park behind the house, which has the best sunsets and view of the balloon fiesta each year. The house itself is a perfect family home. Whether it's baby bums sitting on the kitchen counter at breakfast, or cuddling around the log burner at Christmas, we've made fantastic memories as a young family here."
