"We've loved living in this characterful home. The large windows fill the house with natural light, while the period features give it plenty of personality. The kitchen has been the heart of our home, a wonderful space for cooking, entertaining and spending time with friends and family. In the winter, the log burner makes the living room especially cosy. We've loved having a garden to relax in and enjoy some time outdoors. Totterdown has a real neighbourhood feel, within the city."
