"We've had the best adventures living here. With the park right across the road, it's been our second garden—perfect for football matches, scooter races, and impromptu picnics after school. The kids have grown up climbing trees, sitting on the swings, and making friends just steps from our front door. Inside, the house has always felt full of life—whether it's pancake mornings in the kitchen, movie nights with popcorn in the lounge, or building dens in the garden. There's a real sense of freedom here, and the space has always felt like it was made for family chaos in the best possible way. We'll miss the buzz, the view, and the memories we've made in every corner."
