"This well-presented 1930s three bedroom home has been renovated throughout, featuring a new kitchen, bathroom and boiler and neutral decoration. The property is currently furnished for letting but offers great potential for a family to make it their own, including expanding the living areas under permitted development rights. Period features and high ceilings complete the spacious feel."

Close to major employers, excellent transport links and recreational facilities, the property comes with off-street parking, a quiet 70 ft long rear garden, and a large powered outbuilding that could be used as an office, gym, studio, or even converted into a self-contained annex with appropriate permissions."
