We have lived here for 7 years and have put off moving because we love it so much. Many evenings have been spent watching and painting the sunset over St Andrews park, or spent in the park itself soaking up the atmosphere. Our flat has been a great space to live, managing to accommodate two people working in the height of Lockdown and hosting friends ever since. It's taken us years to try all the food spots just a short walk away, but new places keep popping up!
