Exceptional Freehold Opportunity with Significant Development Potential (STP)

An exciting opportunity to acquire a substantial freehold commercial building, currently operating under Use Class E(a) – Commercial, Business and Service (display or retail sale of goods), offering exceptional scope for redevelopment, asset repositioning, or alternative uses, subject to obtaining all necessary consents.

Total Approximate Floor Area: 1,230 sq m (13,239 sq ft)

The building presents an exciting opportunity for investors, developers, and owner-occupiers alike. With its substantial footprint, flexible internal configuration, two separate access points, natural light, onsite parking, and potential for an independent residential entrance, the property offers compelling scope for imaginative redevelopment.

Of particular note is the opportunity to reimagine the area formerly occupied by the building's historic glazed lantern feature, which could present the potential to create a striking internal courtyard or prominent central atrium space, subject to design and consent. This architectural feature could provide a dramatic focal point, introducing additional natural light and enhancing the appeal of a residential, mixed-use, hospitality, or lifestyle-led scheme.

Interested parties should undertake their own due diligence and consult directly with their architect, planning consultant, and the local planning authority regarding any proposed scheme, including change of use (such as Class E to C3 residential), prior approval eligibility, or full planning requirements. A rare opportunity to acquire a prominent and characterful freehold building with immediate commercial value and exceptional longer-term development potential.

Description

This substantial property extends to approximately

Herne Bay – Seaside Living Redefined

Nestled on Kent's picturesque north coast, Herne Bay offers the charm of a traditional seaside town combined with the ease of modern living. Just over 90 minutes from London by train, with excellent connections via the A299 and M2, Herne Bay provides an ideal balance: the tranquillity of the coast with swift access to the capital and beyond.

A Vibrant Seafront Lifestyle

The seafront is the town's crown jewel – a sweeping promenade lined with colourful beach huts, expansive shingle beaches, and uninterrupted sea views. Residents enjoy invigorating morning walks along the pier, leisurely afternoons on the beach, and golden sunsets across the bay. For those with an active lifestyle, sailing, paddleboarding, and cycling along the coastal trails are on the doorstep.

Dining & Social Experiences

Herne Bay has evolved into a hub of sophisticated seaside dining. From elegant seafood restaurants serving the day's catch to stylish cafés and wine bars perfect for evening gatherings, the town offers a growing collection of culinary highlights. Local bistros and family-run establishments sit alongside contemporary eateries, creating a dining scene as diverse as it is refined.

Things to See & Do

Life in Herne Bay is steeped in heritage and leisure. Explore the iconic clock tower, one of the oldest purpose-built seaside landmarks in the UK, or Reculver Towers. Boutique shops, art galleries, and weekly markets bring a sense of community vibrancy, while nearby Whitstable and Canterbury offer further opportunities for further Boutiques and High Street shopping.

The Essence of Seaside Living

Herne Bay embodies coastal living at its finest – a blend of relaxation, recreation, and refinement. With the sea at the heart of daily life and London within easy reach, it's the perfect location for those seeking a stylish seaside retreat without compromising on connectivity or convenience.
