Tucked away in a quiet cul-de-sac in Whitchurch, this extended three-bedroom semi-detached home has the sort of proportions and versatility that make a family house really work.

There is a generous 22ft living room, providing plenty of space for relaxing, while the impressive 21ft dining room is a real feature of the ground floor. With sliding patio doors opening onto the rear garden, it is a lovely space for family meals, entertaining or simply throwing open the doors in the warmer months.

The kitchen has recently been replaced with a smart, modern fitted kitchen, and the former garage has been converted to create a useful study. Whether you work from home, need somewhere for the children to do their homework or simply want a dedicated quiet space, it adds another useful dimension to the accommodation.

Upstairs are three good-sized double bedrooms, so there is no need to compromise on bedroom space. The newly fitted modern bathroom is equally impressive, with a bath complemented by a separate walk-in shower.

Outside, the rear garden provides a good amount of space to enjoy, with direct access from the dining room making it particularly convenient for summer entertaining and family life.

A well-proportioned and thoughtfully extended home in a peaceful cul-de-sac, with plenty of living space, three double bedrooms and a number of recent improvements. One to put on the viewing list.
