

Trindles Road, South Nutfield

Being able to gaze at views of fields from two bedrooms in the house, whilst having a train station at the end of the road which gets you into London in well under an hour, will be hard to beat. We've loved our regular visits to Discovery Land, and Priory Farm which is next to it, are both a short walk away. Holborns just at the end of the road has been handy for picking up essentials and bumping into friendly neighbours, and we've found the community in South Nutfield to be vibrant, with a packed community events calendar which we've enjoyed over the years.

Situated along the ever-popular Trindles Road in the heart of South Nutfield, this attractive red brick four-bedroom home impresses with its charming kerb appeal and classic character. The property has been extensively modernised in recent years, blending period features with contemporary finishes to create a comfortable and stylish family home.

The ground floor offers a front reception room where a log burner provides a cosy focal point, complemented by traditional details that reflect the home's heritage. A separate dining room provides an ideal space for entertaining and family meals, and the well-appointed fitted kitchen benefits from modern touches including a boiling water tap and a skylight.

On the first floor there are two double bedrooms, alongside a modern family bathroom. The second floor comprises a further generous double bedroom and an additional room currently arranged as a study, which could comfortably serve as a fourth bedroom, plus a contemporary shower room. The property is well equipped for today's lifestyle, with features including a Hive thermostat and a mains-connected fire alarm system.

South Nutfield is a particularly sought-after village, offering both countryside charm and commuter convenience. Nutfield station is 300m away, providing a direct service to Redhill, with onward travel to London in approximately 40 minutes.

The village is especially popular with families, boasting a primary school, store, Post Office and a much-loved pub, and the surrounding Surrey countryside offers scenic walking and cycling routes. Within walking distance is award-winning Priory Farm, Discovery Land, farm shop, garden centre, café, gift barn and Pilates studio.

Overall, this is a beautiful home offering character, space and modern convenience, set within one of Surrey's most desirable village communities — ideal for families and commuters alike.
