Hamlyn Smith are pleased to bring to the market this elegant Georgian home, offering over 2,900 sq ft of versatile living space across four floors. Combining period charm with modern practicality, the property is set on a generous 3rd of an acre plot on the edge of the South Downs, with expansive front and side gardens and excellent potential for a self-contained annexe or further development, including conversion into period flats (subject to planning consent).

The property features multiple reception rooms, including a principal living room to the front with an open fireplace, bay window, and classic period detailing, a formal dining room next door, and a bright orangery to the side of the house. The spacious kitchen/dining room is located towards the rear of the property, fitted with a range of units and integrated appliances, while French doors create a seamless flow between the interior and the garden. The rear wing of the property offers a large bedroom, reception room, and bathroom with its own entrance – ideal for conversion into a self-contained annexe. Above this annexe, there is a large loft space, fully boarded with a Velux window, offering excellent potential for additional accommodation, a home office, or a studio. The property also benefits from a basement, which can be used for storage, accessed from the entrance hall.

Upstairs, the first floor comprises three double bedrooms and two bathrooms, with storage and period features throughout. The second floor adds two further double bedrooms and a large walk-in storage room with loft access, providing further scope for expansion or a home studio.

Externally, the property offers a private driveway with off-road parking, a single detached garage, and a substantial front garden with mature trees, established planting, and fruit trees including apple, pear, and fig. Burgess Hill town centre is nearby, offering a wide range of amenities including shops, cafés, restaurants, and supermarkets, while transport links to London Victoria, London Bridge, Gatwick, and Brighton are excellent via both Burgess Hill and Wivelsfield stations. Families are well served by highly regarded state and independent schools, including Burgess Hill School for Girls, Hurstpierpoint College, Ardingly College, and Brighton College.

This Georgian home, in need of refurbishment, presents a rare opportunity for buyers seeking a spacious period property with charm, modern comfort, and significant potential for development, set in a prime South Downs location.
