FURTHER INFORMATION

The house is fitted with a mechanical heat recovery ventilation (MVHR) system located in the attic. This system extracts moist air from kitchens and bathrooms and replaces it with fresh air from outside, while recovering heat in the process. By reusing this warmth, the system contributes significantly to maintaining improved air quality throughout the home. It was last serviced September 2025.

The property has a 1.0kW photovoltaic (PV) solar panel system, which has generated approximately 50% of the home's annual electricity requirements. In addition, the system is eligible for the Government's Feed-in Tariff (FIT) scheme, and the owner has received an average annual payment of £250 for the electricity.
