The Property
The internal accommodation comprises of an entrance porch, entrance hall, living room, utility, downstairs wc open plan sitting/dining room and kitchen/breakfast room to the ground floor.

On the first floor are three well-proportioned bedrooms and a good size family bathroom.

The Outside
To the front boasting a double-width area with lovely gardens and a path leading to the front door. Directly to the rear of the property is a decked area which is ideal for summertime entertaining. From here, the main portion of the garden is laid to lawn with a pathway that extends to a driveway with off-street parking and direct access off the road to the rear. This spacious garden also benefits from a Southerly-facing aspect.

The Location
The local area of Apsley is an outer district of Hemel Hempstead and is still a busy commercial centre. The Victorian shops that grew up when it was a mill town now house newsagents, public houses, restaurants, and a range of small businesses.

The former mill sites are taken up with supermarkets, retail parks and offices. Housing developments combining the canal side location with the ease of access to Apsley railway station (offering direct access to London Euston) have been very successful.

Hemel Hempstead is a popular new town in Hertfordshire with a mixture of new, modern and older architecture and enjoys numerous open green spaces including the recently rejuvenated Jellicoe Water Gardens in the town centre.

Situated 24 miles to the north west of London and conveniently served by the M1 and M25 motorways, Hemel Hempstead has quickly grown in popularity in the last few years. We have seen more migration from the London suburbs, largely due to its fantastic commuter links including the London Northwestern Railway Overground train to London Euston taking only 35 minutes. Both London Luton and London Heathrow airports are easily accessible via the M1 and M25 respectively.

The town centre has recently been regenerated and is now a vibrant busy attraction. The Marlowes indoor shopping centre offers chain and independent shops whilst the outside Riverside boasts a number of larger chains such as Pizza Express Restaurant.
