Situated just off a quiet country road between Wray and Low Bentham, the area lies between two major national landscapes: the Yorkshire Dales National Park to the east and the Forest of Bowland to the south-west—both just a short drive away. Wray offers a village store, tearoom, garden centre, and public house, while Low Bentham is a small village with a pub.

The bustling market town of High Bentham is just three miles from the property and provides excellent amenities, including a GP surgery, post office, and a good range of shops and pubs. The town also benefits from two grocery stores and a railway station on the Leeds-Lancaster line.
