Property Description

Welcome to Hindburn Cottage – a charming, detached four-bedroom home nestled in a peaceful hamlet with stunning views of the Forest of Bowland countryside. Despite its tranquil setting, the cottage is just one mile from the village of Wray, where you will find a friendly community with a wide range of local amenities, including a reliable bus service.

Originally built in 1902, Hindburn Cottage also incorporates part of an 18th-century turf house, now beautifully repurposed as the kitchen. Over time, the home has been thoughtfully extended, blending historic charm with modern living.

Rich in period features, the property offers two main entrances. The side entrance leads to a spacious lobby, utility room, and convenient downstairs shower room. From here, step into the heart of the home: a historic kitchen/diner with an original stone wall separating the dining area and an adjoining pantry.

Two cosy reception rooms at the front of the property each feature a wood-burning stove and characterful details. The front entrance opens to a welcoming hallway with a staircase to the first floor.

Upstairs, you'll find a spacious master bedroom, a second double, and two versatile single rooms – perfect for a home office, nursery, or hobby room. The main family bathroom completes the layout.

The property benefits from a former garage thoughtfully divided into two ample storage areas that can be accessed from within the house or roadside. The property is further enhanced by a delightful garden, filled with seasonal wildflowers, lawned areas, and two small plots, one traditionally used for growing fruit and vegetables.
