Property Description

This charming one-bedroom semi-detached bungalow, complete with a converted loft space, is ideally positioned on a quiet residential road just minutes from the beach and coastal path. Offering a unique blend of versatility and lifestyle appeal, the property enjoys stunning rear views across open farmland towards the Clwydian Range, making it a truly special setting for a range of buyers.

Approached via a generous hardstanding driveway, the property provides ample off-road parking for multiple vehicles. A timber fence adds a sense of privacy and security, with gated access leading to the side of the home where there is further space for storage or a timber shed. Entry is gained through a PVC double-glazed porch, a practical space laid with wood-effect laminate flooring, ideal for coats and shoes, and housing the gas meter.

From here, a second PVC door opens into the kitchen, which is both stylish and functional. Fitted with a range of high-gloss shaker-style wall and base units, the space is complemented by a tiled splashback and solid wood worktops. There is ample room for a variety of freestanding appliances, including a range cooker, American-style fridge freezer, washing machine, slimline dishwasher and tumble dryer, making it well-suited to modern living. A handy storage cupboard provides additional practicality.

The kitchen flows seamlessly into a bright and spacious dining room, finished with matching flooring. This versatile space offers flexibility to suit individual needs, whether as a dining area, additional lounge or social hub of the home. A staircase leads from here to the loft conversion, with useful fitted storage cupboards beneath, along with a built-in wardrobe. Double doors open into the main living area.

The lounge is currently arranged as a comfortable living space, offering a light and versatile room finished with wood-effect laminate flooring and a freestanding fireplace as a focal point. Its adaptable layout means it could just as easily be utilised as a generous ground floor bedroom if required..

Leading off the dining area, the conservatory provides a wonderful additional reception space. With an insulated roof and recessed lighting, it offers year-round usability while enjoying relaxing views over the garden. Patio doors open directly onto the outdoor space, enhancing the connection between indoors and out.

The loft has been converted by the current owners into a bright and versatile room, illuminated by Velux windows and offering useful eaves storage. This space could serve as a home office, hobby room or occasional guest accommodation. However, it should be noted that no building regulation certificate is currently available, and buyers are advised to make their own enquiries prior to purchase.

The bathroom is fully tiled and fitted with a modern suite, including a WC, hand wash basin, chrome heated towel rail and a bathtub with glass screen and rainfall shower above, complete with a handheld attachment.

Externally, the rear garden is designed for both enjoyment and ease of maintenance. A combination of stone-chipped areas, paving slabs and artificial turf creates a practical yet attractive outdoor space, while decking provides an additional seating area. Two summer houses add further appeal—one currently used as a fully functional garden room with insulation and power, and the other as a charming garden bar, perfect for entertaining. The garden is enclosed by timber fencing and enjoys a desirable south-east facing aspect, with uninterrupted views across open farmland and towards the Clwydian hills beyond.
