Property Description

The current owners commenced a programme of sympathetic renovation in 2020, thoughtfully updating several key areas whilst retaining much of the property's original character. However, prospective purchasers should note that the property remains an ongoing project, with further works and finishing required in places. As such, Bodlondeb may particularly appeal to buyers looking for a home with scope to modernise, personalise, and complete to their own specification. There is also intriguing potential to explore conversion of the substantial basement space into additional accommodation, subject to the necessary permissions and regulations.

To the front of the property there's hard standing off-road parking for multiple vehicles. Stone steps rise to a PVC entrance door opening into a welcoming hallway, laid timber flooring. This impressive space offers access to the main reception rooms and kitchen and is wide enough to accommodate a classic sideboard or statement console table.

Both reception rooms sit at the front of the property. The primary lounge exudes warmth and character, featuring exposed timber beams and a charming multi-fuel stove set beneath a dark oak mantelpiece with slate hearth and surround. A deep-set box bay window captures plenty of natural light, creating a serene and inviting atmosphere—ideal for relaxed evenings or cosy gatherings.

The second reception room, currently arranged as a dining room, also boasts exposed beams and offers superb versatility. It could easily serve as a study, playroom, or hobby space depending on your lifestyle.

To the rear lies the well-appointed kitchen, fitted with contemporary shaker-style cabinetry, marble-effect worktops and an attractive brick-tiled splashback. A breakfast bar provides a casual spot for morning coffee, while integrated appliances include a five-burner gas hob and double electric oven with grill.

A large utility room sits beyond the kitchen, offering generous space for an American fridge freezer, chest freezer, both washing and drying appliances, and there's a built-in full size dishwasher. Matching cabinetry, a sink-and-a-half and modern downlighting ensure practicality blends seamlessly with style.

The primary bedroom is a bright and generous double, featuring a central chimney breast with alcoves that lend themselves perfectly to fitted storage or shelving. Two expansive front-facing windows bring in abundant natural light, enhancing the sense of space.

Bedroom two is another well-proportioned double with views over the rear aspect, while bedroom three mirrors this generous sizing and welcomes plenty of natural light through its large window.

Bedroom four—accessed via a small set of steps—is an ideal home office or study, complete with a charming traditional hand basin.

The main bathroom features tiled flooring alongside a mix of tiling and easy-clean PVC panelling to the walls. A large P-shaped bathtub with overhead mixer shower offers comfort and convenience, accompanied by a hand basin with built-in storage.

Outside, the rear garden can be reached via the kitchen, where stone steps descend to a low-maintenance courtyard garden laid with paving stones and framed by a blend of brick and stone boundary walls. Flowerbeds offer scope for creating a colourful, vibrant outdoor space. A large storeroom sits to the rear of the utility—perfect for bikes, equipment, or seasonal belongings—while an adjoining former carport adds additional parking options. The garden enjoys a warm, sunny south-facing aspect.

A truly unique feature of Bodlondeb is the extensive basement, divided into three separate rooms and retaining a historic Victorian fireplace (no longer in use). This remarkable space presents exciting potential for conversion or creative use, offering the possibility of significantly extending the home's footprint.

Conveniently located on Rhuddlan Road, just a stone's throw from Abergele Town Centre, granting effortless access to nearby infant, primary, and secondary schools, an array of local shops, charming gastro pubs, cafes, and a host of other local amenities. For those with an eye on commuting along the picturesque North Wales Coast, the A55 is conveniently situated just 0.3 miles away.
