Property Description

The property is accessed via an open porch leading to a PVC entrance door with double-glazed inserts. Inside, a wide entrance hall, laid with carpeting and featuring a staircase rising to the first floor. An open under-stair storage area offers practical space for coats, shoes or household items.

The lounge is a well-proportioned and inviting room, benefiting from dual-aspect windows that allow natural light to flow throughout the space. A traditional fireplace with timber mantel and stone surround forms the focal point of the room, housing a gas fire which is currently decommissioned but retains its character as a feature.

To the rear of the home, a second reception room offers flexible living space and is currently arranged as an additional lounge. Generous in size, it could equally serve as a formal dining room and enjoys an open connection to the kitchen area. Sliding doors lead directly into the conservatory, extending the living accommodation and providing a pleasant transition to the garden.

The conservatory is a bright and versatile room with views over the rear garden and space for comfortable seating or informal dining. Doors open out to the garden, making it an ideal spot to relax while enjoying the outdoor outlook.

The kitchen is arranged in a practical galley layout and is fitted with shaker-style wall and base units, finished by tiled splashbacks and vinyl flooring. Integrated appliances include an electric oven and four-ring gas hob. The kitchen remains open to the second reception room, creating a sociable atmosphere.

Beyond the kitchen is a useful utility area providing plumbing and power for a washing machine and tumble dryer. From here there is also access to a convenient ground-floor WC.

Upstairs, the first floor offers three bedrooms. The primary bedroom is a comfortable double with dual-aspect windows allowing plenty of natural light and ample space for freestanding bedroom furniture. The second bedroom is a compact double, also benefiting from dual-aspect windows and suitable space for wardrobes or additional furniture. The third bedroom is a single room that could easily serve as a nursery, study or home office depending on individual needs.

The bathroom currently comprises a cast iron bath, hand wash basin and WC, along with a timber-clad ceiling and a handy linen cupboard for storage. It should be noted that the fittings may contain asbestos, and buyers are advised to undertake appropriate checks as part of the conveyancing process.

Outside, the enclosed rear garden is bordered by secure timber fencing and enjoys a south-west facing aspect, allowing for afternoon and evening sunshine. The garden is mainly laid to lawn with a small paved patio area, ideal for outdoor seating or dining, and also benefits from gated access to the front of the property.

Offering flexible living accommodation and a location that places schools, transport links and the town centre within easy reach, this property represents an excellent opportunity for families, first-time buyers or those seeking a conveniently positioned home.
