The internal accommodation comprises: Entrance hall with stairs leading up through the property and access to the principal reception rooms. To the right is the bay-fronted living room, a generous space with exposed timber flooring, period detailing, fitted shelving and an impressive fireplace with exposed brick detailing and a wood-burning stove. The large bay window provides an attractive focal point, while the proportions offer plenty of space for comfortable seating.

The dining room continues the characterful presentation, with exposed timber flooring, a decorative fireplace surround and fitted shelving, providing ample room for a substantial dining table. The kitchen is well appointed with a range of shaker-style wall and base units, contrasting work surfaces, generous preparation space and grey tiled flooring.
