DESCRIPTION

This enchanting semi detached country cottage style property has been in the same ownership for some 60 years plus, being constructed of brick under a tiled roof. The family have undertaken various improvements over the years including a two storey extension towards the rear. The deceptive accommodation has the benefit of hardwood double glazed windows and gas central heating which is presently run from the Rayburn located in the kitchen along with heating by woodburner. The main reception room, located towards the front has a pleasant aspect whilst towards the rear there is an additional reception room/sitting room which opens up to the rear garden and enjoys enchanting views over the parkland.

Note there is also an additional secluded garden area located towards the rear of the adjoining cottage which is also being sold with Cherry Trees, therefore, the whole occupies a generous plot, garden/orchard areas, various patio areas which enjoy a South Westerly aspect.
