

Waverley Road, Margate, CT9 5QB

Offers In The Region Of £350,000

This is a proper period house, with good bones, generous proportions and a sense of calm that comes from having stood its ground for decades. You feel it as soon as you step into the hallway: the width, the height, the quiet confidence of rooms that were built to last. A bay-fronted lounge catches the light differently as the day moves on, the dining room waits to be brought back into service as the heart of the home, and the kitchen is ready for reinvention rather than replacement.

Upstairs, the layout tells a story of scale rather than compromise. Two good double bedrooms, a further single, a separate bathroom and WC on the first floor - a luxury rarely found in houses of this era - with two additional bedrooms on the top floor that open up all sorts of possibilities: growing families, home working or creative space. Outside, the rear garden is refreshingly manageable, edged with established trees and shrubs that soften the space, while the brick-built shed and outside WC are practical reminders of how this house has always worked hard for its owners.

It does need work - and that's the opportunity. The seller understands this and will price with realism, not fantasy. What's on offer here is not a finished product, but a chance to create something deeply personal in a location that quietly delivers everything: schools, station, beach, all within easy walking distance, and London beyond when you need it. For the buyer who can see beyond the surface, Waverley Road offers something increasingly rare - a house with history, flexibility, and the space to become exceptional.

Waverley Road is set within Margate itself, a town that has found its confidence again. The beach, station and schools are all close enough to shape everyday life, not just weekends. Margate's mix of sea air, independent shops, galleries and long-standing local places make it what it is today!
